

Letter from Elsie Bell Grosvenor to Alexander Graham Bell, March 25

March 25th IEIg. Shelburne Hotel. atlantic City. My dear Papa

You asked me to write my first letter on the type writer to you, so I do.

It is very rough today & windy today, and it is raining so we cannot go out this morning.

I have finished that tablecloth for you at last. I suppose you think I have taken forever to finish it, but as I say it is at last finished.

I very well, How are you? Mamma is very tired, & is lying down on the bed just now, she did not have much sleep last night I think.

I wore for the first time last night a pretty new blue crape dress, trimmed with china silk I think I looked very pretty in it, if I do say it myself. I wish you could see it.

I must stop now, for Miss Kirwan wants me to go out.

Your very loving daughter, Chris May Bell
